

STAYING COVID 19 SECURE

Simmons is fully committed to safeguarding the health, safety, security and well-being of our colleagues, clients, our supply chain partners and the people in the communities where we work.

We are aware of and will comply with Public Health England (PHE) through www.gov.uk, the Health and Safety Executive (HSE) and Construction Leadership Council (CLC) Guidance.

Before we start work:

- We carry out a COVID-19 risk assessment and share the results with our workforce.
- We have cleaning, handwashing, and hygiene procedures in line with current government guidance.
- We only allow the people needed to complete the works to attend site.
- We take all possible steps to maintain the two-metre social distance across our projects and offices.
- Where people cannot be two metres apart for essential operational reasons, we will do everything possible to manage the transmission risk.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Ray Simmons', is positioned above the printed name.
